Shine With Us

The basic investment of any educational edifice is the student. The learning process is centered on the student and comes the students' activities as a complementary. It is the place where the student can develop her talents and expand her perceptions through participation and preparation of various extracurricular programs, either cultural, social and sports ones, In a way the student can get the knowledge and experiences that sharpen her personality, especially that the trends of the labor market and its requirements under the vision of the Kingdom of 2030 differed from what was previously so the participation of the student in the extracurricular activities is equally important as the importance of her scientific achievement and academic GPA level. Therefore, dear student try to develop of your credit of extracurricular activities through attending courses, lectures.
